

The News

March 6th 1pm©

by Noele Bouazouni-Prier

Bruno Le Maire announced this morning after his meeting with distributors that an anti-inflation quarter will be set up. The French Minister of the Economy has confirmed an agreement to guarantee the lowest possible prices until June.

The measure will be tested in several departments in the coming weeks.

A new day of mobilization, tomorrow, against the pension reform. A mobilization that has already started for truck drivers, with actions since this morning in the North at Léquin near Lille. Roundabouts were blocked and go-slow operations set up at the call of Force Ouvrière and Solidaires.

Unions want tomorrow to be a show of strength. Their objective is to make the government give in. The Secretary General of the CFDT Laurent Berger calls on all French people to massively come and demonstrate. More than 260 rallies are planned throughout the country.

Gérard Pélisson has passed away. Co-founder of the group Accor, the sixth in the world in the hotel sector with 5,400 establishments, Gérard Pélisson was 91 years old.

And then the results of the Michelin guide are currently being communicated. The ceremony is taking place in Strasbourg and 39 new restaurants have obtained their 1st star. Among them, Rouge in Nîmes - an establishment run by the chef of Beninese origin Georgiana Viou.