

The News

October 6th 1pm©

by Noele Bouazouni-Prier

The government is looking into the problem of bedbugs. An interministerial meeting is being organized today in Matignon to find solutions to eradicate these insects.

The water crisis is not getting any better in Mayotte. The archipelago is hit by a serious drought and the population has been deprived of water two out of three days since the beginning of September. Faced with this situation, Elisabeth Borne announces that the State will temporarily cover the water bills of the Mahorais.

A new suspicious death has been reported at the Remiremont hospital in the Vosges. A patient died on Tuesday. The surgical activity of the establishment is suspended. The hospital has been targeted by twelve complaints filed by patients' families in these past months.

43 million children have been displaced in six years due to weather disasters. This is revealed by the Unicef report published today. In 95% of cases, these children have been forced to leave their homes due to storm flooding or forest fires.

And we'll finish in rugby!! France plays its final World Cup group match!!! Les bleus face Italy this evening at 9 p.m. in Lyon.