

The News

December 7th 12pm©

by Noele Bouazouni-Prier

It has been 2 months, to the day, since the Hamas attacked Israel. Since then, the IDF has been waging fierce battles against the Islamist movement in the Gaza Strip, particularly to the south of the enclave in Rann Younès. The Israeli army claims to have “pierced the defensive lines” of Hamas, “eliminated numerous terrorists” and destroyed around “30 tunnel entrances”.

The terrorist of the attack in Paris is placed in pre-trial detention and in solitary confinement after his attack on Saturday evening. He was indicted for assassination in relationship with a terrorist organization. While in police custody, the 26-year-old Franco-Iranian man indicated that his initial target was the Vel d'Hiv children's memorial garden.

Clément Beaune wants to make train travel an affordable and popular means of transportation. He said this morning that there will be no increase in prices at the SNCF. The Minister of Transport announces the freezing of prices for SNCF Ouigo and Intercités trains in 2024 to help travelers, in the midst of inflation.

Emmanuel Macron is currently gathering hundreds of scientists and researchers at the Elysée. The Head of State will announce the creation of a "Presidential Science Council" in order to provide "visibility to research". This Council will aim to support the Head of State on his future decisions on all scientific questions and innovations.

Decisive meeting for the future of the Casino group is taking place today. Unions, management and potential buyers will meet, while employees, who are worried about their jobs, have been on strike since Tuesday. The large distribution company, in great financial difficulty, is preparing to sell its stores, likely to Intermarché.

And then the Festival of Lights in Lyon starts today. This 30th anniversary will take place until Sunday.